

MORE HAZING TESTIMONY.

ALFRED BRITZ TREATMENT OF J. J. FLEMING OF NEW YORK.

The Only Case Recalled by Cadets Who Appeared Before the Army Court Yesterday—Heard Allegedly in a H. H. After He Was Hazed—How Many Hazed Are Run.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 26.—The Army Court of Inquiry investigating the charges that Cadet Alfred Britz had ordered the hazing of a cadet in the Military Academy, formerly a cadet in the Military Academy, and the effects of hazing on the part of his fellow cadets, resumed its sessions in the academy building here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The court began proceedings at 2 o'clock. The case was last Tuesday and continued until Saturday last at noon, when it took a recess for Christmas. Today it took up the thread of the case, the story of the career of young Britz here at the Academy at the point where it was broken off last Tuesday. The court heard the testimony of the first hazing and about half of the first had been examined. This afternoon twelve more cadets, all first classmen, were questioned, and this line of inquiry will go on until the entire first class has been examined.

This will exhaust the number of those who were here at the same time with Britz, and also all who were here at the same time with the late Cadet Britz, whose case has become involved with that of Britz. The testimony of the mother of Mr. Britz, in which Mrs. Britz charged that her son, too, was a victim of West Point hazing.

When all these young men have been put upon the witness stand, the court will proceed to the third and fourth class, which will be examined. The inquiries to these classes will be on the subject of hazing in general, with the view to find out what, if any, change for the better has been brought about by the cadet corps agreement of last year to do away with hazing. The most violent forms of the hazing exercises. After that, presumably, Col. Mills, Superintendent of the Academy, and Col. Hein, Commandant of Cadets, will be put on the stand.

This will bring out the fact that the only dismissal from the Military Academy during the past twenty-five years have been during the administration of Col. Mills, as well as the further fact that it was through Mills's influence that the cadet corps entered into the agreement last year to do away with hazing.

Probably the entire inquiry here will not be finished before Saturday afternoon next. The features of today's testimony was the statement of one cadet of the first class that he actually had seen the late Cadet Britz when he was suffering severely from the effects of violent hazing. It was Cadet William Tibbald of Virginia, an appointee of the first class.

Tibbald's testimony was in line, in certain respects, with testimony that was brought out by the testimony of the late Cadet Britz, who had been an inmate of the academy, but also that he was regularly hazing with two or three other cadets to an extent which made it next to impossible for him to keep still in the ranks and which was a serious condition before he entered the academy. He told me that he had a severe case of hazing, and that he had been hazing for some time before he entered the academy.

Cadet Tibbald today asked if he had ever seen Britz hazing. He replied that he had not seen Britz hazing, but that he had seen him just after he had been hazing.

Q. To what form of hazing had he been subjected? A. He had been subjected to the same kind of hazing as the other cadets, but he had been subjected to it in a more severe form. He had been subjected to it in a more severe form than the other cadets.

Q. Did you ever see him hazing? A. Yes, I did. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy.

Q. Did you ever see him hazing? A. Yes, I did. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy. I saw him hazing in the academy.

INTRODUCES PHILBIN TO ALL THE JUDGES BUT GOLF.

Years Ago at the Parting of the Colonel and His Staff—He Announces That He Yields Under Protest, Reserving All His Legal Rights—Commends McIntyre to Philbin.

Eugene A. Philbin entered the District Attorney's office yesterday morning, and after introducing his successor to the Judges of General Sessions (excepting Recorder Goff), the Justices of Special Sessions and the twenty-seven assistant and deputy assistant District Attorneys.

Though Col. Gardiner delivered over his office graciously, he fired a parting shot of protest against the action of the Governor in removing him from his post. He said by way of welcome to Mr. Philbin: "I want it to be clearly understood that I do not voluntarily surrender the office, and that I protest against the action of the Governor in removing me from my post. I am anxious, while protesting against this action and reserving all my legal rights, that the public business shall not be injured or retarded, and to that end I will be pleased to cooperate with you in any way that you may deem proper."

"I thank you cordially for your offer," replied Mr. Philbin, bowing. "I feel sure that you would be ready to give me every assistance in your power. I shall not hesitate to call on you. I thank you, sir."

Mr. McIntyre's record is well known. Col. Gardiner and Mr. Philbin, preceded by Officer Palmer as bodyguard, made a tour of the Criminal Court Building and the new District Attorney's office.
